

Email: info@boundlessadventure.com
Whatsapp Number: +9779851033819
Telephone Number: +977 1 4701884
Telephone Number: +977 1 4701885

Naya Kanga Peak Climbing

URL: <https://boundlessadventure.com/naya-kang-peak-climbing>

Duration

16 Days

Difficulty

Challenging

Best Seasons

March-July, Sep-Nov,

Transportation

Jeep

Max Altitude

5844m

Trip Type

Climbing

Meal

Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner

Accommodation

Tents/Guest house

Naya Kang peak climbing highlights.

- Naya Kanga peak climbing is recognized as the Ganja La Chuli.
- It lies over the frozen Himalayan Lake- Gosainkund.
- The Naya Kanga peak Climbing trip is joined by the Langtang Valley Trekking.
- Naya Kanga peak Summit offers astonishing views of Langtang Lirung (7246m), Dorje Lakpa (6990m), Langtang II (6571m)

Trip Overview

Naya Kang Peak Climbing (5844m) is in the Langtang National Park region. It is recognized as Ganja La Chuli. The Naya Kanga peak climbing is in the high Himalayan landscape in northern Nepal. It is located over the Langtang Valley and south of the Gosaikunda frozen lake.

The Naya Kanga Peak climbing trip is connected with the Langtang Valley Trekking in Nepal. The Naya Kanga peak climbing trail goes through the Oak and rhododendron forest of the Langtang National Park. Naya Kang's peak climbing season starts in March, April, May, October, and November.

Boundless Adventure arranges climbing trips for 2024 and 2025. It provides information on the Naya Kanga peak climbing, an itinerary, cost details, and a peak climbing itinerary. Contact us by email or WhatsApp at +977-9851033819 now.

Well, if you lack time, we can drop you off and pick you up at the Kyanging gumba by helicopter.

Naya Kang peak climbing package

The Naya Kang peak climbing package offers beautiful views of the local geography and landscape. From the top of Naya Kang, you can see Langtang Lirung (7246m), Lenpo Gang (7083m), Dorje Lakpa (6990m), Langtang II (6571m), the mighty Shishapangma (8027m), and the Ganesh Himal range. The northeast ridge over a line of rocky glaciers is a popular route to summit the Naya Kang peak.

The best way to acclimatize is to travel to Nayakang, climb in the Langtang Valley, and visit Kyanjin Monastery. Hiking towards Kyanjin-Ri is not only for acclimatization but also for a scenic and wonderful trip. Then, the camp is set on the yak pasture of Negang (4000m).

It is a Superb climbing trip with professional Nayakang climbing guides and information. Similarly, the Naya Kang Climbing Peak starts from Kathmandu and drives to Syabrubesi, a gateway to the Langtang region. It is a fantastic trip through the rich geography of the Langtang National Park with flora and Fauna.

Boundless Adventure is a leading climbing trip operator local company that organizes several climbing activities on the peaks and Himalayas of Nepal. We provide experienced guides, Naya Kanga Peak Climbing information, and an experienced guide and team for a successful Naya Kanga peak climbing trip. Please contact us for more detailed information on Naya Kanga peak climbing.

Climbing Equipment

You should share whatever equipment you have for Naya Kang peak climbing with us first, and we will discuss the cost of Naya Kanga peak climbing in more detail. Because climbing boots cannot be found in your size, we suggest you buy climbing boots yourself. Still, check out the equipment list.

Trip Itinerary

Boundless Adventure offers a 14-day itinerary package for Naya Kang Peak Climbing. The expedition to Naya Kanga Peak climbing begins with a scenic drive from Kathmandu to Syabrubesi and ends with a drive through the same route. The itinerary includes one day for acclimatization at the Kyanjin to let climbers adjust to changing temperatures.

The climb to Naya Kanga Peak covers the trek in the Langtang Valley. The trail passes through prominent villages, including Lama Hotel, Kyanjin, and others in the Langtang National Park area. However, the itinerary is customizable, and we don't mind customizing it according to our client's preferences.

Day 01: Arrive at Kathmandu airport (1345m)

You will commence your first step on your journey to Naya Kanga by arriving in the Nepal from your home country. Upon your arrival, a team member from Boundless Adventure will be outside the airport to welcome you. Our representative will greet you and take you to your hotel. After checking in at your hotel, take time to rest and relax. In the evening you can come directly to our office. Otherwise, we are okay with visiting your hotel to debrief you on the upcoming journey. Your overnight stay and dinner are at the Hotel of Kathmandu.

Destination:

Kathmandu

Accommodation

Hotel

Transportation:

Car

Duration:

20 minute

Food:

Not Included

Day 02: Drive to Syabrubesi (1503m)

Pack your backpack and get ready for the beginning of your journey to Naya Kanga Peak. If you have chosen a private vehicle, we will pick you up from your hotel, but if you have selected a public vehicle, you must go to the Buspark to drive towards Syabrubesi. The drive travels through Nepal's diverse landscape, offering glimpses of its natural beauty.

The road is blacktop until reaching to Dunche, and after Dhunche, the road is gravel. Also, you will drive through a shared jeep from Dhunche to reach Syabrubeshi. The distance from Kathmandu to Syabrubesi is 122km, which requires 8-9 hours of driving. Your overnight stay and evening meal are at the tea house of Syabrubesi.

Destination:

Syabrubesi

Accommodation

Hotel

Transportation:

Bus

Duration:

8-9 hour

Food:

Lunch and Dinner

Day 03: Trek to Lama Hotel (2480m)

Wake up in the fresh air in a place of raw beauty. At the tea house where you are staying, you'll have a fresh and delicious morning meal. After breakfast, strengthen your leg to start trekking. The day's final destination is Lama Hotel, which is 2480m. The trek to the Lama Hotel commences with a descent towards the Bhote Koshi River and follows Langtang Khola (river). Throughout the walks, you can hear the sound of chirping birds and meandering rivers, making the trek thrilling.

The trail passes through dense forests of oak and rhododendrons and passes several suspension bridges. On the way, you may encounter monkeys and deer. The 5-6 hours walk from Syabrubesi takes you to Lama Hotel. Bamboo and Rimche are the prominent villages you will walk through before reaching Lama Hotel— overnight and dinner at the tea house of Lama Hotel.

Destination:

Lama Hotel

Accommodation

Hotel

Transportation:

Hiking

Duration:

5-6 hour

Food:

Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner

Day 04: Trek to Langtang village (3,430m)

You will depart from Lama Hotel after a hearty meal at the tea house. The destination for the fourth day is Langtang village, which lies at 3430m. The trail begins with a gradual ascent through dense oak, maple, and rhododendron forests. The trail reaches Ghoda Tabela (Horse Stable) after walking from the Lama Hotel for a few hours. Passing through the trail with mani walls, chortens, and prayer wheels, you will reach Langtang Gumpa.

You can take time to explore the Gumpa. Then, continuing the trail, you will reach Langtang village. The trek from Lama Hotel to Langtang village offers eye-appealing views of Mount Langtang Lirung and other mountain peaks. Passing the suspension bridge is another highlight of the trek. It takes 5-6 hours to reach Langtang village from Lama Hotel. You will have lunch and a pleasant overnight at a tea house in Langtang village.

Destination:

Langtang Village

Accommodation

Hotel

Transportation:

Hiking

Duration:

5-6 hours

Food:

Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner

Day 05: Trek to Kyanjin (3830m)

Another exciting morning begins with a warm meal at Langtang Village. After breakfast, you will kick off the trail towards Kyanjin Gumpa. The trail passes through rhododendrons and bamboo forests along the Langtang River bank. The chortens, mani walls, and prayer flags on the way enhance your trek.

Passing through beautiful settlements of the Langtang region and several suspension bridges, you will reach Kyanjin at an elevation of 3830m within 3-4 hours of walking from Langtang Village. The village is famous for its monastery, which is significant to the area's inhabitants. Your dinner and sleepover will be at the tea house in Kyanjin.

Destination:

Kyanjin

Accommodation

Hotel

Transportation:

Hiking

Duration:

3-4 hours

Food:

Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner

Day 06: Kyanjing Acclimatization Day

You are already above 3000m and still need to reach higher. At higher elevations, altitude-related issues are the primary concern. Acclimatization helps to adapt to the changing temperature. Thus, acclimatization is a crucial part of trekking and climbing in high altitudes. Day six is for your acclimatization and exploration day at Kyanjin.

On the acclimatization day, you can hike up to Kyanjin Gumpa, which lies at 4400m. The Kyanjin Ri is the finest viewpoint of the Langtang Valley, offering a bird's-eye view of the area of Langtang National Park. From the Kyanjin Ri, you can admire magnificent views of Mount Langtang Lirung, Yala Peak, Tserko Peak, Langtang Lirung Glacier, Changbu, and Yubra.

After a pleasant short day hike, you will return to Kyanjin village for a night. You can also utilize the acclimatization day by visiting nearby monasteries and local areas.

Destination:

Kyanjin

Accommodation

Hotel

Transportation:

Hiking

Duration:

5-6 hours

Food:

Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner

Day 07: Trek to Nayakang Base Camp (4600m)

Wake up with the fresh energy of the previous day's acclimatization day. Finish your breakfast and tie your shoelaces for the first step toward Naya Kang Summit. The day's final destination is Naya Kang

Base Camp at 4600m.

The climbing section is quite adventurous, involving passing through rocky paths and moraines. However, the views along the way are breathtaking, with sights of mountains and glaciers. The trail also consists of a section passing through oak forests and lush rhododendrons. A 5- 6 hour climb from Kyanjin takes you to Nayakang Base Camp, which lies on a small plateau south of Kyanjin.

The Base Camp of Naya Kang doesn't have a tea house facility. Thus, you must spend a night in a tented camp. Our climbing crew will fix a tent for you at the Naya Kang base camp, and our cook will prepare a delicious meal for you.

Destination:

Naya Kang Base Camp

Accommodation

Tent

Transportation:

Hiking

Duration:

5-6 hours

Food:

Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner

Day 08: Climb up to Naya Kang High Camp (4960m)

Today's climb takes you one step closer to your final destination. After our cook prepares a morning meal, you will begin climbing towards Naya Kang High Camp. Today's walk is adventurous, with rocky paths, crossing a glacier, and steep ascents. The climb is physically demanding, so you must be healthy and listen to your body.

One remarkable part of the climb is the panoramic views of the Langtang range, including Mount Langtang Lirung, Dorje Lakpa, and others. During the climb, you can also witness some rare wildlife species.

Once you reach the High Camp, our climbing crew will set up the camp for your night stay. The climb from Naya Kang Base Camp to Naya Kang High Camp is 5-6 hours. Enjoy a comfortable night and a hearty dinner in the tent. However, before sleeping, your guide will describe the next day's climb.

Destination:

Naya Kang High Camp

Accommodation

Tent

Transportation:

Hiking

Duration:

5-6 hours

Food:

Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner

Day 09: Summit Naya Kang peak (5844m) and back to Naya Kang Base Camp

Finally, the day has arrived when you climb to the Summit of Naya Kang Peak. You must start your climb at around 3-4 a.m. with a headlamp and a packed lunch. You need to make your equipment ready as it finally comes into use. After 6-7 hours of adventurous climbing with the accompanying spectacular mountain peak, you will get to the summit of Naya Kang.

Getting to the top of the Naya Kang is like stepping foot in heaven. Your feelings of accomplishment are indescribable. Mount Langtang Lirung (7246m), Dorje Lakpa (6990m), Lenpo Gang (7083m), and Langtang II (6571m) are mesmerizing from the top of NayaKang. Likewise, the mighty Shishapangma (8027m) and the Ganesh Himal range are eye-catching from the summit of Naya Kang. Furthermore, you will get a jaw-dropping sight of numerous glaciers from the Naya Kang Peak.

After appreciating the view from the top of Naya Kang and celebrating your success, you will descend to Naya Kang Base Camp for an overnight stay. You will descend through the same route taken during the trail to the Summit of Naya Kang. You will walk approximately 10 hours on this day. You will spend the night and have dinner at the tent.

Destination:

Naya Kang Base Camp

Accommodation

Tent

Transportation:

Hiking

Duration:

10 hours

Food:

Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner

Day 10: Trek to Kyangjin Gompa

Congratulations, you succeeded in climbing to the peak of Naya Kang. Now, you must return from the journey. After breakfast at Naya Kang Base Camp, you will descend towards Kyanjin Gompa. It is a 4-5 hour walk from Naya Kang to Kynjin Gompa. You can rest after getting to Kyanjin Gompa. Your overnight stay and dinner will be at the tea house of Kyanjin.

Destination:

Kyanjin

Accommodation

Hotel

Transportation:

Hiking

Duration:

4-5 hours

Food:

Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner

Day 11: Trek back to Lama Hotel

Wake up and get ready to return to the Lama Hotel. After breakfast, you will begin your descent by following the Langtang River. The trek involves walking through the Tamang settlements, where you can interact with the locals. The trail passes through juniper bushes and rhododendron forest. Langtang village, Ghoda Tabela, and Chhunama are the prominent villages you will walk through before reaching Lama Hotel. The descent from Kyajin to Lama Hotel takes 5-6 hours. You will spend a night and have dinner again at the Lama Hotel.

Destination:

Lama Hotel

Accommodation

Hotel

Transportation:

Hiking

Duration:

5-6 hours

Food:

Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner

Day 12: Trek to Syabrubesi

The twelfth day is the final walking day in the Langtang Valley. With a warm breakfast at the Lama Hotel's tea house, you will set off for the Syabrubesi. You will descend via the Sherpa Gaon to get Syabrubesi. You will walk through the rhododendron and bamboo forest, where you can see numerous wildlife. After passing Sherpa goan, you will enter the Tamang communities, allowing you to get involved in various ethnic groups in Nepal. Mountain peaks are indeed the highlight of your trek, creating a thrilling return. Five hours of walk from Lama Hotel brings you to Syabrubesi, where you will stay for the day's accommodation and dinner.

Destination:

Syabrubesi

Accommodation

Hotel

Transportation:

Hiking

Duration:

5-6 hours

Food:

Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner

Day 13: Drive back to Kathmandu

Say goodbye to Langtang village. You will drive back to Kathmandu today. After breakfast, we will pick you up from Syabrubesi. You will drive to Dhunche from Syabrubesi by shared jeep, and afterward, you will drive through a public bus. The road is the same one you had previously traveled on. An 8-9 hours scenic drive takes you to Kathmandu. Your overnight and dinner are at the Kathmandu Hotel.

Destination:

Kathmandu

Accommodation

Hotel

Transportation:

Bus

Duration:

8-9 hours

Food:

Breakfast, and Lunch

Day 14: Final Departure

It's time to say goodbye to you. It is your departure day; if you have more than one, let us know, and we will arrange another exclusive trip for you in Nepal. As per the time you provide, our representative will pick you up from your hotel and drop you off at the airport by saying goodbye. Boundless Adventure hopes that you enjoyed the excursion. See you soon. Have a safe flight.

Transportation:

None

Trip Includes

- Airport picks up and drops by car/van/bus.
- Kathmandu Heritage sightseeing (option)
- Accommodation and meals are offered three times a day during the trip.
- Highly experienced, helpful, and friendly Trekking and climbing guide, porters (1 porter for two people), their food, accommodation, salary, insurance, and equipment.
- Langtang National Park Entry Permit and Peak Climbing Permit.
- TIMS card.
- Government taxes.
- All ground transportation.
- Each person needs one trekking/climbing map.

Trip Excludes

- Travel insurance.
- Tips & Donation
- All sightseeing entry fees.

- All climbing gear and equipment.
- Hotel in Kathmandu

Frequently Asked Questions

Where is Naya Kang Peak?

Naya Kang Peak is in Langtang Valley of Nepal at the Bagmati province. The peak lies within the Langtang National Park and south of the Gosaikunda Lake. In the Rasuwa district, the Naya Kang Peak is North of the Kathmandu Valley. Also known as Ganja La Chuli, the peak is near the Tibetan border. Situated south of Langtang Lirung and west of Shishapangma, Naya Kang Peak is a popular climbing destination for mountaineers.

Which time of the year is suitable for the Naya Kang Peak Climbing?

Spring (post-monsoon) from March to May and Autumn (Post-monsoon) from September to November are suitable times for climbing Naya Kang Peak. The time offers favorable conditions for peak climbing with fewer challenges. Spring and Autumn bring mild temperatures and clear skies, making it ideal for peak climbing in Naya Kang.

How much does the Naya Kang Peak Climbing cost?

The cost of Naya Kang Peak Climbing can vary depending on factors such as the duration of the expedition, any additional services, and customization of the itinerary. The size of the group also affects the cost. The price of the climbing package covers accommodation and three times meals throughout the journey. The price of the package covers all the permits and necessary paperwork for the expedition, trekking and climbing guides, porters, and all ground transportation.

What is the itinerary for Naya Kang Peak Climbing?

The itinerary of a Naya Kang peak climbing is 14 days. Boundless Adventure has carefully made the itinerary involving acclimatization day and adjustable trekking hours. Per the itinerary, the first day is for arrival in Nepal, and on the second day, the expedition begins with a drive to Syabrubesi. On the third day, the trek starts towards Lama Hotel and passes via Langtang village on the fourth day and Kyanjin on the fifth. Day six is an acclimatization day at Kyanjin. From the seventh day, the trek continues through Nayakang Base Camp on eight days, Naya Kang High Camp on the ninth day, and the summit of Naya Kang Peak on the tenth day. Afterwards, the journey returns through the same trail.

What are the main attractions of the Naya Kang Peak Climbing?

Each step to Naya Kang Peak is eye-appealing and provides a stunning panorama of the surrounding area. However, one of the major attractions during the hike includes the sight of majestic mountain peaks, including Langtang Lirung, Dorje Lakpa, Lenpo Gang, Langtang II, Shishapangma, and the Ganesh Himal range.

Do I need a permit to climb the Naya Kang Peak?

Yes, permits are mandatory for climbing Naya Kang Peak. The Trekkers Information Management System (TIMS) card, Langtang National Park Entry Permit, and Naya Kang Peak Climbing Permit are mandatory permits for climbing Naya Kang Peak. Climbers should obtain those permits from the different Nepali tourism departments. However, without worries, Boundless Adventure provides those permits on their client's behalf.

How do I book the Naya Kang Peak Climbing?

Booking the Naya Kang Peak climbing is easy and convenient. One of the easiest ways to book is through the online booking process via Boundless Adventure's website. However, if you have any special requests, contact us on WhatsApp at +977 9851033819, and we'll book your expedition according to your preference.

How difficult is the Naya Kang Peak Climbing?

Naya Kang Peak climbing is one of the most adventurous climbs in the Langtang region. The technical climbing section, steep sections, trail with Crevasses, and Icefalls make the climb one of the adventurous ones. Likewise, the higher elevation and requirement for good physical fitness make climbing to Naya Kang challenging.

How high is Naya Kang Peak?

The Naya Kang Peak is 5844m/ 19173 ft above sea level, one of the most challenging peaks. Due to its higher elevation, altitude-related issues are the primary concern during the climb. Thus, climbers should acclimatize correctly, stay hydrated, and listen to their bodies while climbing.

What should I pack for Naya Kang Peak Climbing?

For Naya Kang Peak climbing, climbers must pack appropriately with the right equipment to ensure safety, comfort, and success. Clothing with a base layer, an insulating layer, an outer layer, a lower body, an upper body, headwear, handwear, and footwear is essential for Naya Kang. Likewise, technical equipment, including Climbing ropes, climbing harnesses, ice axes, crampons, helmets, carabiners, and ascenders, is necessary for the climb. Also, we suggest packing personal items and miscellaneous items.

Essential Information

Cost of Naya Kang Peak Climbing

The Naya Kang peak climbing cost is subjective and varies according to various factors. The group size is one prominent aspect that affects and causes a massive change in the peak climbing cost in Naya Kang. Boundless Adventure is offering an exclusive group discount, so climbers can expect that the more they are in a group, the more they will get a discount on the package.

Likewise, whether hiring a porter or not, personal expenses and renting or buying equipment and gear also affect the price of Naya Kang Peak Climbing. Furthermore, the customization of the trip also affects the cost of peak climbing. Generally, peak climbing lasts for 14 days; however, if climbers want to extend or shorten the journey and make plans on their own, the cost of the tour changes.

The price of the Naya Kang Peak Climbing includes three meals a day, all ground transportation, all permits, trekking and climbing guides, and all government taxes. For details on the Naya Kang Peak Climbing cost, along with the preference and size of the group, get in touch with us today via WhatsApp at +977 9851033819. Our team is always ready to answer your queries.

The ideal time for Naya Kang Peak Climbing

It is crucial to choose an ideal time to climb Naya Kang Peak. The seasons of Spring and Autumn are perfect for mountaineering activities, whether for Naya Kang Peak climbing or any other destination.

Spring starts after the winter season in March and lasts until May. It is one of the prettiest seasons because the blossoming of rhododendrons in the Langtang region makes the peak climbing excursion enjoyable. Most importantly, the pleasant and stable weather makes climbing the Naya Kang Peak less difficult in the spring.

Like Spring, Autumn is the other ideal time for Naya Kang Peak climbing. The season starts after the monsoon season in September and lasts till November. Autumn is a desired time for Peak climbing due to its clear visibility, mild temperature, and stable weather.

Off-season for Naya Kang Peak Climbing

Going on an excursion to Naya Kang Peak Climbing during the off-season can ruin all your excitement and enjoyment of the tour, so we suggest you avoid the off-season for peak climbing of Naya Kang. Summer and Winter are the off-season for the Naya Kang Peak climbing due to the challenges it provides.

Summer from June to July is a monsoon season, which is why Peak climbing in Naya Kang is off-season. Although summer has long daytime and warm temperatures, it is not ideal for climbing and trekking in Nepal's Himalayas. The heavy rainfall creates difficulty in Peak climbing with slippery trails and chances of landslides.

Winter from December to February is another off-season for Naya Kang Peak climbing. The season is the coldest, making climbing less desirable. The temperature drops below minus degrees during Winter, making climbing challenging. Also, the high risk of avalanches makes Winter not the right time for mountaineering activities in the Himalayas.

Accommodation during Naya Kang Peak Climbing

The climbing package covers the accommodation and meals throughout the Peak climbing in Naya Kang. We manage the accommodation at the finest point where climbers can rest after a tired walking day and sleep well.

Accommodation varies depending on the location. From Syabrubesi to Kyanjin, climbers stay in local tea houses in the Langtang region. However, as the actual climb towards Naya Kang begins, there is no settlement. Thus, climbers should spend three nights in a tent.

Along with accommodation, we provide healthy breakfast, lunch, and dinner throughout the climbing expedition. During the stay at tea houses, climbers get melas at the tea house, and during the stay at a tent, you will get meals that our cook will prepare.

Flexible itinerary

Boundless Adventure believes that every tourist is different and has different choices and preferences. Considering that, we provide the option of a flexible itinerary. This option allows climbers to customize the climbing package and itinerary per their preferences. However, climbers must request the option during their booking time.

The attraction of the Naya Kang Peak Climbing

Eye-catching mountain View

The expedition to Naya Kang Peak climbing is all about the snow-capped Peak's attraction. Each step of the peak climbing offers a magnificent perspective of the Himalayas Peaks. Mount Langtang Lirung (7246m), Mt.Dorje Lakpa (6966m), Mt.Lenpo Gang (7083m), Mount Shishapangma (8027m), and Mt.Langtang II (6571m) are the major attraction of the Naya Kang Peak climbing.

Exceptional Culture

Peak climbing to Naya Kang allows climbers to experience the exceptional Tamang culture. The climb passes through the Langtang Valley, home to Tamang inhabitants. During the walk and stay at the tea houses, climbers can experience the hospitality of Tamang inhabitants and their unique culture and lifestyle. The monasteries along the way to Tamang village enhance the attraction of the Naya Kang Peak climbing.

Flora and Fauna

The trail to Naya Kang Peak Climbing passes through Langtang National Park, home to varied flora and fauna. Thus, during Naya Kang's peak climbing, the sight of flora and fauna adds to the beauty of the climb. Rare fauna, including red pandas, snow leopards, and Himalayan black bears, are the major attractions of Langtang National Park that climbers may witness during their expedition to Naya Kang Peak Climbing.

Difficulty level of Peak Climbing to Naya Kang

The difficulty level of Peak Climbing to Naya Kang is adventurous. A prominent factor that makes the Naya Kang Peak climb difficult is its high elevation, 5844m. The higher elevation creates altitude-related issues, making the climb challenging. Likewise, the ascent to Naya Kang Peak requires technical skills and knowledge of using crampons, ice axes, ropes, and other technical equipment, making it difficult for climbers who don't know how to use them.

The high altitude terrain and steep ascent section also add to the adventure level of the Naya Kang Peak climbing, requiring good physical fitness. Also, the unpredictable weather conditions of the Himalayas make the climb challenging. However, don't worry if you are with Boundless Adventure. We will do our best to make your climb less difficult by pre-planning it and providing a professional climbing crew.

Address

Paknajol Marga, Thamel

P.O.Box: 11670, Kathmandu, Nepal

Email: info@boundlessadventure.com

Whatsapp Number: +9779851033819

Telephone Number: +977 1 4701884

Telephone Number: +977 1 4701885