Trip Overview

Nepal Hunting Reserve has only one hunting reserve area in Nepal. It is called Dhorpatan and lies in the three districts of Nepal. March, April, May, September, October, and November are the best hunting seasons of 2024 and 2025. Similarly, Dhorpatan is the only hunting area allowed in Nepal, even though we have found many different regions of Nepal.

The Dhaulagiri Himalayan range. It was established in 1987. A. D is extended in an area of 1325 s q km. Most of the parts lie on higher elevations, where the pasture lands lie.

Many people come from different countries worldwide to hunt reserves to fulfill their hunting ego by paying royalties to Nepal.

The hunting license is provided to you by the Department of National Parks and Wildlife Conservation to hunt only one animal in Nepal, including the blue sheep and Himalayan Thar. However, contact us on WhatsApp at +977 9851033819 or by email.

The forests of Nepal's hunting reserve area are alpine, sub-alpine, and high-temperature. They include rhododendron, birch, pine, fir, hemlock, oak, and juniper. Other wild animals in this region are leopards, Himalayan black bears, wild boars, and langurs.

Mountain pigeons and Cheer pheasant are found in this region. Value, Barse, Seng, Dogadi, Sundahl, and Mustang are the hunting blocks in the Dhorpatan hunting tour package. Although we have other wildlife reserves and national parks, we cannot hunt animals.

Suggestions for Hunting

1. Your trip can be longer than you thought due to any region. You are heading to hunt wild animals. Sometimes, we have to go to higher elevations to settle the camp and get hunting animals.
2. Beautiful but dangerous with wild animals. Of course, you can see Himalayan Thar( Blue sheep), which used to live up in the mountains. But Snowleopard is also living in high mountains too. Your guide is thoroughly knowledgeable about the trip. Please follow the guide.
