Trip Overview

Seven days Pokhara Tour is Nepal's second biggest tourist and most beautiful city. It is a foothill of the Annapurna Himalayan range of Nepal. Everyone who wants to go to Annapurna Trekking has to travel to Pokhara.

Which lies in the country's western region, 200 km west of Kathmandu, Nepal. Situated at 827m above sea level, Pokhara Valley is the most picturesque spot in Nepal.

We are getting a Pokhara tour booking 2024; if you are interested, it is available for 2025.

It is a must-see destination for every tourist arriving in Nepal. We can see three of the ten highest mountains in the world, including Mount Dhaulagiri, Mount Annapurna I, and Mount Manaslu. Similarly, the beautiful Mount Machhapuchhre (Holy Mount Fishtail) is just a 50 km destination from the city.

Similarly, the tour in Pokhara is also the gateway to popular treks in the Annapurna region and Upper Mustang.

Similarly, the tour in Sarangkot is a short distance from Pokhara, the best viewpoint in the Himalayan range. You can drop us your email for price, detailed itinerary, information, and cost details anytime by email and WhatsApp at +977 9851033819.

The Pokhara tour begins via flight or road drive from Kathmandu. Early in the morning, we leave for Sarangkot to get the best viewpoint over the mountain. You can observe the Annapurna and Dhaulagiri ranges. The sunrise view over the mountains is impressive. Fewa Lake, Begnas, and Rupa are enchanting lakes of Pokhara.

On a clear day, one can see the reflection of Machhapuchhre (fishtail) on the Fewa Lake. Boating on the Lake is among the things most wanted by every tourist. You can also visit the Taal Barahi temple in the middle of the Lake.

DeviDevi'sl is a unique waterfall flowing into a narrow, deep canal that has not yet ended. We also visited the Popular temple of Pokhara Bindabasini Temple, Mahendra Cave, Chambre Gufa (Bat Cave), and Shiva Cave (near DeviDevi'sl)

These are other attractions of the Pokhara tour. The Pokhara tour takes about four days from Kathmandu to Kathmandu.

You can go by tourist bus, car, or ART plane (Plane). Boundless Adventure is always managed as you wish. Don't hesitate to contact us for more details about the Pokhara tour now.

Activities in Pokhara tour

Pokhara is a small city in Nepal, but it is the second biggest tourist attraction in the city. It is famous for several lakes, including Mount Annapurna, the World Peace Stupa, and the Dhaulagiri Himalayan range.

However, you can have many different adventure activities, including Ultra light and Paragliding, Helicopter to Annapurna Himalayan Range, Zeep flyer, Bunjey jumping, and swimming in the Phewa Lake, Rupa Lake, and Begnas Lake in Pokhara.

Best Season to tour in Pokhara

However, the Pokhara tour highlights that the best seasons are March, April, May, June, September, October, and November.

Unless you are thinking of travelling to Pokhara in 2024 and 2025? Do not waste your opportunity to explore the hidden culture of Pokhara Valley, the best sunrise view from Sarangkot, and the Annapurna Conservation area.

Essential Information

Davi's Fall in Pokhara

One of the significant allurements of the Pokhara is a waterfall named Davi's Fall. The waterfall is a major attraction for tourists and locals. Thousands of domestic and international visitors go to visit David Falls. The Nepali name of the waterfall is "Patale Chhango." The famous name David Fall has a history behind the Swiss lady who drowned in the waterfall due to the overflow of water while swimming.

The waterfall makes a 500-foot-long tunnel when it reaches the undermost part. The primary source of the waterfall is the dam of Phewa Lake. The David fall is visually appealing as it is surrounded by superabundant flora.

Pokhara Fewa Lake Exploration

The Fewa Lake of Pokhara, known as Phewa Tal, is the second largest lake in Pokhara. The Fewa Lake lies in the south of Pokhara Valley. The lake was named Baidam Tal in the past. The tour to Pokhara is incomplete without the visit to Phewa/ Fewa Lake.

Located at an elevation of 742 m/ 2,434 ft with a covering area of 5.7 km² (2.2 sq mi), Fewa Lake offers a lot of tourist experience. The lake has an average depth of 8.6 m (28 ft) and a maximum of 24 m (79 ft). On Fewa Lake, you can get involved in different activities, including Boat rides, Lakeside walking, and enjoying the view of the reflection of Annapurna and mountain ranges. The temple in the middle of the Fewa Lake is another attraction.

Begnas Lake of Pokhara

Begnas Lake is another clear and fresh lake of Pokhara located in the Kaski district of Gandaki province. The lake lies in the southeast of Pokhara Valley. With the area covering 3.28 km² (1.3 sq mi), the lake is the second largest lake in Nepal.

The average depth of Begnas tal is 6.6 m (22 ft), and the maximum depth is 10 m (33 ft) as the water level changes every year due to rainfall and use for irrigation. The Khudi Khola stream balances the lake. The lake is also a famous tourist site for its crystal-clear view of the Mnalsu and Annapurna ranges.

Rupa Lake in Pokhara

At the Rupa rural municipality of Kaski district, Rupa Lake (Tal) is a natural water lake in Pokhara, Nepal. The lake is on the border of Pokhara metropolitan and is ranked as the third largest and most prominent lake in Pokhara. At an elevation of 600 m/ 1,969 ft, Rupa Tal covers an area of 1.35 km² (0.5 sq mi).

The Rupa Lake has a maximum depth of 6 m (20 ft); on the other hand, the average depth of the tal is 3 m (10 ft). The lake stretches from north to south, and the main water flow comes from the Talbesi River, while Dhovan Khola is the secondary stream. The lake helps in the local economy by attracting several tourists each year with its serene beauty.

Mountain and Sunrise View from Sarangkot

Sarangkot is a near area of Pokhara located in word no18 in Kaski district. The area is a well-known tourist attraction due to its awe-inspiring sunrise views over the stunning mountain summit. On the tour of Pokhara, the morning view from Sarangkot is remarkable.

Before sunrise, travelers drive to Sarangkot early in the morning to please their eyes. As the first ray of the sun touches the peak of the Annapurna, Machhapuchhre, Manaslu, and Dhaulagiri ranges, it transforms with different colors, making the entire scenery jaw-dropping.

After enjoying the sunrise, travelers can admire the magnificent view of snow-capped peaks throughout the day. Whether you are a photography enthusiast or want to immerse yourself in nature's beauty, Sarangot is the finest destination. It provides an unforgettable experience that will stay in your mind forever.

World Peace Stupa in Pokhara

The World Peace Pagoda in Pokhara lies on the top of the hill, symbolizing peace and harmony. Visitors worldwide visit the Pagoda and experience the peacefulness and stunning views. Upon reaching the Pagoda, visitors are welcomed by the four sparkling white stupas, each decorated with golden Buddha images and facing in a cardinal direction. The other local name of the World Peace Pagoda is "Shanti Stupa."

Nipponzan-Myōhōji established the first world peace pagoda in Nepal in Pokhara, Kaski. Nipponzan-Myōhōji established several pagodas worldwide, among which World Peace Pagoda was first constructed in the seventies. The World Peace Pagoda lies at an 1100m/ 3609 ft elevation on the hill of Anadu. From the top area of Pagoda, visitors can enjoy scenic sights of the Annapurna range, Fewa Lake, and the entire city of Pokhara.

Visitors can enjoy stunning sunrise and sunset views as the World Peace Pagoda stands at the top of the hill. According to Tripadvisor, located 115 feet tall and 344 feet in diameter, the Pagoda is the second most popular attraction in Pokhara. The World Peace pagoda provides peace, harmony, and unity, immersing visitors in cultural heritage and stunning environments. The Pagoda is a must-visit destination for those seeking a deeper connection with spirituality and nature.
